

Put - Sprinter Open End Coffee Future

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Sprinter Open End products are leveraged products without a fixed maturity, but are characterised like standard Sprinter warrants by their direct worthless expiry when reaching or falling below (call) or reaching or exceeding (put) the particular knock-out level. Due to the low amount of capital employed in comparison to a direct investment in the underlying, they allow the leveraged product an overproportional participation in the price performance of the underlying and can therefore be used for speculation or hedging positions. The strike price and knock-out level are adjusted daily. The following applies as a rule: The closer the actual market price of the underlying is to the strike price, the greater is the leveraging effect. In contrast to standard warrants, the price of the Sprinter Open End is only marginally affected by volatility.

In Switzerland, these financial instruments are considered structured products. They are not collective investment schemes within the meaning of the Swiss Federal Act on Collective Investment Schemes (CISA), and are therefore not subject to the regulations of the CISA or the supervision of the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority FINMA.

whereby:

FL(ns): Current strike after roll-over

FL(n): Current strike before roll-over

RORP(a): Roll-over benchmark price for the current underlying before roll-over

RORP(n): Roll-over benchmark price for the current underlying after roll-over

ROF: Roll-over fee

If the First Notice Day of the Current Underlying is before its Last Trading Day, the period for the Roll-over day begins 10 trading days before the First Notice Day and ends on the Last Trading Day of the Current Underlying.
Roll-over benchmark price	At his own discretion, the Paying and Calculation Agent determines the roll-over benchmark price on each roll-over day, based on the prices of the current underlying as traded and published on the futures exchange and within one hour before and including the time at which the official settlement price is determined.

Description of the underlying

They are carried out at intervals determined at the discretion of the paying and calculation agent; the discretion of the paying and calculation agent should be orientated towards applicable market practice in so far as possible. On the occasion of such roll-overs, a current Coffee Future is replaced by a new Coffee Future which has the same or comparable contract specifications with the exception of the later future maturity.

PROSPECTS OF PROFIT AND LOSSES

Sprinter Open Ends offer the opportunity to benefit on the basis of the leveraging of a positive price performance (Call-Sprinter Open End) or a negative price performance (Put-Sprinter Open End) of the underlying. The potential for profit is thus basically unlimited for Call-Sprinter Open Ends; for Put-Sprinter Open Ends, the maximum potential for profit is limited and reached when the market price of the underlying drops to zero. Based on the leveraging effect, changes in the value of the underlying can overproportionally affect the value of Sprinter Open Ends. Any possible profit consists of the positive difference between the sales price that is achieved or the repayment amount and the issuing or purchase price that is paid. The redemption amount receivable in the event of any exercise of the warrant depends on the figure by which the market price of the underlying exceeds (Call-Sprinter Open End) or falls below (Put-Sprinter Open End) the actual strike price on the exercise day. Sprinter Open Ends do not provide any current income. As a rule, they lose value if for Call-Sprinter Open Ends the underlying's price does not rise or if for Put-Sprinter Open Ends there is no fall in the underlying's price. Sprinter Open Ends have no set maturity, but they become immediately worthless when the knock-out level is reached. The actual knock-out level is identical with the actual strike price. The strike price is adjusted daily to the market and depends amongst others on the previous strike price and the financing spread. In this regard the financing spread matches the financing costs of the issuer through the interest on deposits. The risk for an investment in Sprinter Open Ends is based not only on the leverage effect, but also on the danger of a knock-out event occurring, which is significantly greater than it would be for a direct investment. On the basis of the daily market adjustment of the strike price, a knock-out event may also occur with a previously unchanged market price of the underlying, and thus resulting in an expiration without any value.

SIGNIFICANT RISKS FOR INVESTORS

Currency risks

If the underlying or underlyings is/are denominated in a currency other than the product's reference currency, investors should bear in mind that this may involve risks due to fluctuating exchange rates and that the risk of loss does not only depend on the performance of the underlying(s) but also on any unfavourable performance of the other currency or currencies. This does not apply for currency-hedged products (quanto structure).

Market risks

The general market performance of securities is dependent, in particular, on the development of the capital markets which, for their part, are influenced by the general global economic situation as well as by the economic and political framework conditions in the respective countries (so-called market risk). Changes to market prices such as interest rates, commodity prices or corresponding volatilities may have a negative effect on the valuation of the underlying(s) or the structured product. There is also the risk of market disruptions (such as trading or stock market interruptions or discontinuation of trading) or other unforeseeable occurrences concerning the respective underlyings and/or their stock exchanges or markets taking place during the term or upon maturity of the structured products. Such occurrences can have an effect on the time of redemption and/or on the value of the structured products.

Secondary market risks

Under normal market conditions, the issuer or the lead manager intend to post bid- and ask-prices on a regular basis. However, neither the issuer nor the lead manager is under any obligation with respect to investors to provide such bid- and ask-prices for specific order or securities volumes, and there is no guarantee of a specific liquidity or of a specific spread (i.e. the difference between bid- and ask-prices), for which reason investors cannot rely on being able to purchase or sell the structured products on a specific date or at a specific price.

Issuer risk

The value of structured products may depend not only on the performance of the underlying(s), but also on the creditworthiness of the issuer/guarantor, which may change during the term of the structured product. The investor is exposed to the risk of default of the issuer/guarantor. For further information on the rating of Vontobel Holding AG or Bank Vontobel AG, please see the issuance programme.

Publication of notifications and adjustments

All notifications to investors concerning the products and adjustments to the product terms (e.g. due to corporate actions) are published under the "Product history" of the respective product www.derinet.ch, and, in the case of products listed on the SIX Swiss Exchange in accordance with the valid provisions at www.six-swiss-exchange.com.
