

Unlimited Certificates relating to the Faktor 10x Long Allianz DOTS Index Final Termsheet as of 23 August 2019

This document is of a summary nature only. The Final Termsheet constitutes a definitive Simplified Prospectus as defined in article 5 of the Swiss Federal Act on Collective Investment Schemes (CISA).

This document in English is not available in one of the official Swiss languages.

The Securities do not constitute a participation in a collective investment scheme as per the CISA and are not subject to authorization and supervision by the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority (FINMA). Accordingly, neither the Securities nor investors of the Securities benefit from protection under CISA and are exposed to the credit and default risk of the Issuer.

I. Product Description

The Securities will grant the investor the right to request redemption of the Securities with effect as of the Redemption Date in order to receive on the Maturity Date the payment of a cash amount per Security (the "Redemption Amount") corresponding to the Reference Price of the underlying Faktor 10x Long Allianz DOTS Index (the "Index") on the Valuation Date expressed in EUR (for the purposes of the calculation one indexpoint shall be equal to EUR 1,00), multiplied by the Ratio, the result being converted into the CHF.

The Index underlying the Securities will be calculated and published by Commerzbank in its capacity as Index Calculation Agent. The Index is a strategy index that is composed of a leverage component and a financing component and participates in the movements of the Share underlying the Index.

The leverage component in the Index reflects a 10-fold purchase of the Share (Long position). This means that on a daily basis a rise in the price of the Share will result in an increase of the leverage component equal to the 10-fold percentage increase of the Share Price (the same applies in the case of a decrease of the Share Price). This leverage effect will have a disproportionately high effect on the Index, both in the case of positive as well as negative Share movements.

The financing component results from the costs for borrowing money at an one-day rate (EONIA), increased by a per annum rate (ICS Rate) that reflects the hypothetical costs of replication of the performance of the Index, plus the Index Fees. It should be noted that the higher the factor, the higher the cost resulting from the per annum rate (ICS Rate). Since the financing component is always negative, it will reduce the value of the Index on each Index Calculation Day.

If on a day an UpperPrice Event occurs, such day (possibly with retroactive effect) will not be an Index Calculation Day.

Swiss Taxation Treatment

The following summary on Swiss Taxation does not purport to address all tax consequences of the Securities and is not intended to be, nor should it be construed to be, tax advice. This summary does not address any tax consequences of an investment in the Securities in any other jurisdiction than Switzerland. Since this summary does not consider the specific tax situation of an investor, prospective investors are advised to consult their personal tax advisors as to the tax consequences of the purchase, ownership, sale or redemption of the Securities including, in particular, the effect of tax laws of any other jurisdiction.

Swiss Income Tax
(Federal Direct Tax)

Please note that the following information about swiss income tax is only applicable for private investors with tax domicile in Switzerland, holding the Securities as part of their private assets from a Swiss tax perspective (Swiss resident private investors):

Unlimited Certificates linked to Indices with an initial leverage of at least 4 are considered as future contracts for swiss tax purposes. Any gain/return realized with such futures during the term of the Securities or at redemption should qualify as tax exempt capital gains for private investors. Unlimited Certificates linked to Indices with an initial leverage smaller than 4 at issuance are considered as "false" future contracts. For "false" future contracts with a term of more than 12 months (or an unlimited term), the interest component is subject to Swiss income tax at Redemption. The amount of the interest component will be assessed by the Swiss tax administration based on a market-conform interest.

This Unlimited Certificate is considered as a "false" future contract. The interest component is subject to Swiss income tax at Redemption. The amount of the interest component will be assessed by the Swiss tax administration based on a market-conform interest.

The tax treatment regarding cantonal and communal income taxes might differ from the tax treatment regarding the Federal Direct Tax. However, in general the tax treatments should correspond.

Swiss Stamp Duty

Secondary market transactions of futures (see "Swiss Income Tax") are in general not subject to Swiss Securities Transfer Tax ("Umsatzabgabe"). The Swiss stamp tax treatment of "false" future contracts (= Securities with initial leverage less than 4) is depending on the term of such Securities. If the term is maximum 365 calendar days, secondary market transactions are in general not subject to Swiss Securities Transfer Tax. However, secondary market transactions of "false" future contracts with a term of more than 365 calendar days or an unlimited term are in general subject to Swiss Securities Transfer Tax.

Secondary market transactions are in general subject to Swiss Securities Transfer Tax.

Swiss Withholding Tax	The Securities are not subject to Swiss Withholding Tax.
Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters ("Automatischer Informationsaustausch")	Switzerland agreed with various countries and the European Union to implement the Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters ("AEOI") as of 1st January 2017 and is negotiating the introduction of the AEOI with further countries whereby the Automatic Exchange of Information has been and will be extended to other countries. The website "www.sif.admin.ch" provides an overview of all partner states Switzerland has signed an agreement for the introduction of the AEOI. In this context the EU Savings Tax for Swiss paying agents and the Final Withholding Tax with UK and Austria have been repealed as from 1st January 2017.
Section 871(m) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986	Transactions and payments related to this Security may be subject to additional (foreign) transaction taxes duties and or withholding taxes in particular a withholding tax pursuant to the Section 871(m) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code. All payments from this Security will occur with any applicable taxes and duties deducted. The Issuer is not obliged to pay additional amounts with regard to amounts so withheld. Please refer to the Security Documentation for detailed information.

This summary of the tax treatment applies at Issue Date and reflects the Issuer's understanding of current law and practice in Switzerland relating to the taxation of the securities. The relevant tax laws and/or regulations and practice of the tax authorities may change at any time, possibly with retroactive effect. Any investor shall be liable for all current and futures taxes and duties resulting from an investment in the Securities. The Issuer hereby expressly excludes any liabilities in respect of any tax implications arising thereof.

II. Profit and Loss prospects

Market expectation	Investors in these Securities expect increasing value of the Share underlying the Index.
Risk tolerance	Investors in these Securities should have sufficient knowledge and experience with transactions in derivate products and the equity markets. Investors must be willing to make an investment that is exposed to the leveraged full down-side risk of the Underlying performance.
Profit prospects	Potential profit from an investment in the Securities is not limited.
Loss prospects	Investors may suffer a partial or total loss as they bear the leveraged full downside risk of the Underlying performance.
Other factors	Investors should note that the value of the Securities is not only subject to the development of the prices of the Underlying but is also subject to other factors that may negatively influence the price of the Securities.

III. Significant risks for investors

The description of the risks set out below only mentions some risks that the Issuer considers to be the major risks as of the date hereof.

Product-specific risks

In addition to the risks set out in section II. (Profit and Loss Prospects), the following risks apply:

Investors are not entitled to receive any dividends paid on the Underlying and the terms and conditions of the Securities will only be adjusted for distributions and other corporate actions relating to the Underlying in certain limited circumstances.

The investor bears the risk that the Redemption Amount is below the purchase price of the Security. The lower the Reference Price of the Underlying on the Valuation Date, the greater the loss.

Investors should pay particular attention to the fact that the daily changes in relation to the Share (i.e. the change between two subsequently following Closing Prices of the Share) will have 10-times that effect in percentage terms on the value of the Index and, thus, the value of the Security; this means that, the more the price of the Share decreases on a trading day, the lower the Index level will be on that trading day and vice versa, with the daily changes in relation to the Index being intensified in both directions as a result of the 10-fold leverage.

When calculating the Index, the leverage component reflects the purchase of the Share (Long position) that underlies the Index with a 10-fold leverage effect on the leverage component. A price gain in relation to the Share as compared to the Closing Price of the Share on the preceding day will lead to a 10-fold increase in the leverage component in percentage terms and vice versa.

The financing component results from the costs for borrowing money at an one-day rate (EONIA), increased by a per annum rate (ICS Rate) that reflects the hypothetical costs of replication of the performance of the Index, plus the Index Fees. Since the financing component is always negative, it will reduce the value of the Index on each Index Calculation Day.

Investors must note that the Index level includes an Index Fee for the management and the calculation of the Index. The Index Fee will be deducted daily during the calculation of the Index. Generally, the deduction of the Index Fee will result in a reduction of the value of the Index and, thus, the Securities.

No automatic payment of the Redemption Amount represented by the Securities is scheduled. Any payment of the Redemption Amount is contingent upon the Securities either having been called for redemption previously by the investor or having been terminated by the Issuer by virtue of an ordinary or extraordinary termination notice.

The investor should note that a call for redemption of the Securities is possible only with effect as of definitive dates. In between these dates the economic value represented by the Securities can be realised solely by virtue of a sale of the Securities. The investor should note that a time delay may occur between the point in time at which the Redemption Amount in respect of such call is determined. In particular in the event of a disruption event (i.e. market disruption events), however, such a delay may apply for much longer. The price of the relevant Underlying may fall significantly during that period, so that the Redemption Amount may even be zero.

In addition, the investor bears a currency exchange risk as the amounts that are not expressed in the Issue Currency will be converted at the currency exchange rate on the Valuation Date.

In addition to the product-specific risks highlighted above, investors are exposed to the market risk and other risks related to the Underlying. Consequently, investors must independently inform themselves about and assess such risks and they have to form their own view on the expected development of the Underlying.

Volatile secondary markets and limited liquidity

Investors should expect that market prices for the Securities will be volatile, depending upon the development of the price of the Underlying, interest rates, remaining term of the Securities and other factors.

Liquidity of the Securities and/or the Underlying in the secondary markets may be limited. There is no obligation of the Issuer or the Lead manager to make a market in the security. There can be no assurance that a secondary market will develop for the security or that it will subsist.

The price at which the Security may be sold in the secondary market may be less than the intrinsic value of the security and less than the amount originally invested. It may be possible that the Security cannot be sold at all in the secondary market.

Deviation of Issue Price from market value

The Issue Price may be more than the market value of the securities on the Issue Date and the price, if any, at which any person may be willing to purchase this Security in a secondary market transaction may be lower than the Issue Price. In particular, the Issue Price may take into account commissions in relation to the issue and sale of this Security as well as costs in relation to the hedging of the Issuer's obligations under this Security, and secondary market prices are likely to exclude such amounts.

Risks relating to the Issuer

The value of the Securities is not only subject to the performance of the Underlying, but, among others, also to the credit rating and solvency of the Issuer which may be negatively affected during the terms of the Securities.

In addition, investors are exposed to the general risk that the Issuer's financial situation may worsen - and that the Issuer may be subjected to a reorganisation proceeding (Reorganisationsverfahren) or transfer order (Übertragungsanordnung) under German bank restructuring law or that insolvency proceedings might be instituted with regard to its assets - and therefore attainments due under the Securities can not or only partially be done. Under these circumstances, a total loss of the investor's capital might be possible.

The securities constitute direct, unconditional and unsecured obligations of the Issuer, ranking pari passu with all other unsecured, unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer, save for obligations preferred by operation of law. They are neither secured by the Deposit Protection Fund of the association of German Banks (Einlagensicherungsfonds des Bundesverbandes deutscher Banken e.V.) nor by the German Deposit Guarantee and Investor Compensation Act (Einlagensicherungs- und Anlegerentschädigungsgesetz).

IV. Important Information

Potential investors of the Securities should carefully consider the information contained in and evaluation of the Securities should be made solely on the basis of the Security Documentation and not in reliance of the information contained in this Simplified Prospectus. In case of any inconsistency between the information set out in this Simplified Prospectus and the Security Documentation, the information contained in the Security Documentation shall prevail.

This document is for information purposes only and should not be construed as an offer, recommendation or solicitation to enter into any transaction in the Securities or the Underlyings. Recipients of this Simplified Prospectus should note that this Simplified Prospectus shall not be copied or reproduced and shall not be distributed into a country in which distribution of the Simplified Prospectus is not allowed.

Nothing in this document is intended to provide any projection, prediction or guarantee of any price developments or performance. Commerzbank Group may, in the course of its regular business activities hold positions of the Underlyings, or may buy or sell, or make a market in, the Underlyings. In addition, Commerzbank Group's trading and/or hedging activities related to the Securities may affect the market price of the Underlyings. Such hedging activities may negatively affect the value of the Underlyings and thus the value of the Securities and the redemption amount of the Securities respectively. This is particularly true in case of the dissolution of a hedge close to maturity of the Securities.

V. Selling restrictions

The Securities may not be publicly offered, sold or delivered within or from the jurisdiction of any country, except in accordance with the applicable laws and other legal provisions, and provided further that the Issuer does not incur any obligations. The Issuer has not undertaken any steps, nor will the Issuer undertake any steps, aimed at making the public offering of the securities or their possession or the marketing of offering documents related to the securities legal in such jurisdiction if this requires special measures to be taken.

This Simplified Prospectus does not constitute an issuance prospectus pursuant to Art. 652a and 1156 of the Swiss Code of Obligations (CO). This Simplified Prospectus may only be used for the purposes of distribution of the Securities in Switzerland.

The requirements for a public offer in the Member States of the European Economic Area ("EEA") are not fulfilled. Consequently, the securities may not be publicly offered in any of the EEA Member States (except as explicitly provided under the prospectus exemptions of Directive 2003/71/EC (as amended by Directive 2010/73/EU, to the extent implemented in a relevant EEA Member State ("2010 Amending Directive"), the "EU Directive") with respect to inter alia (i) an offer of securities addressed solely to qualified investors as defined in the EU Directive, and/or (ii) an offer of securities addressed to fewer than 100, or, if the Relevant Member State has implemented the relevant provisions of the 2010 Amending Directive, 150 natural or legal persons per Member State other than qualified investors, and/or (iii) an offer of securities addressed to investors who acquire securities for a total consideration of at least EUR 50,000, or, if the Relevant Member State has implemented the relevant provisions of the 2010 Amending Directive, EUR 100,000, and/or (iv) an offer of securities whose denomination per unit amounts to at least EUR 50,000 or, if the Relevant Member State has implemented the relevant provisions of the 2010 Amending Directive, EUR 100,000.

This document is not for distribution, directly or indirectly, in or into the United States or its possessions. This document is not an offer to sell securities, or the solicitation of any offer to buy securities, nor shall there be any offer of securities in the United States or in any jurisdiction in which such offer or sale would be unlawful. The securities have not been and will not be registered under the US Securities Act of 1933, as amended ("Securities Act"), and may not be offered or sold in the United States absent registration or exemption from registration under the Securities Act.
